

Two products. One powerful platform.

SBLOC loan origination and deposit account applications both available on Talea®

Talea, a cutting-edge platform for account automation, already lets you quickly connect clients to the borrowing power of their portfolio. Now, you can also use it to process deposit account applications.

By using the platform for both, you're delivering a consistent submission process to your clients while reducing wait times and the need to track applications across multiple systems.

Start using Talea today to improve the experience for you and your clients.
